

A photograph of Rochdale Town Hall, a large historic building with a prominent clock tower, undergoing renovation. The building is covered in scaffolding, and the roof is partially covered with a white protective sheet. The clock tower is a tall, ornate structure with a clock face. In the foreground, there is a construction site with various equipment and materials. The sky is cloudy.

Rochdale Town Hall Phase 3

Donald Insall Associates
Chartered Architects and Historic Building Consultants

This is a holding document. The final Heritage Impact and Design Document will be issued shortly.