ET CLAY CLASS B RED 73MM PERFORATED WIRECUT ENGINEERING BRICK PACK OF 404

Only 1 left in stock

SKU: BR4358

The Red Engineering Class B 73mm brick, imported from the EU, is a perforated, wirecut brick that combines both high strength and low water absorption. Engineering bricks are specified for their physical characteristics and not their appearance. They have high compressive strength and low water absorption and are classified only by these properties. Their use for facing work should be avoided. Where aesthetic performance is a major consideration, facing bricks should be used.
