The client and design team have met and discussed the scheme with Christiana Shovlin from RBC on a number of occasions. Christiana has been extremely helpful in guiding us through some of the more intrusive elements of the proposal. We have discussed the proposed new escape stair in detail and presented options of which both parties have discussed the pros and cons. The solution presented here is as a direct result of that consultation. We look forward to continuing to work with her through the detailed design phases.
