Biodiversity net gain

This is subject to exemptions, an exemption applies in relation to planning permission for a development which is the subject of a householder application, within the meaning of article 2(1) of the Town and Country Planning (Development Management Procedure) (England) Order (2015)*.

Applicants for planning permission are required to make a statement as to whether they believe the biodiversity gain condition will apply if permission is granted, please confirm:

☒ It is my belief that if permission is granted for the development to which this application relates the biodiversity gain condition would not apply

*A 'householder application' means an application for planning permission for development for an existing dwellinghouse, or development within the curtilage of such a dwellinghouse for any purpose incidental to the enjoyment of the dwellinghouse which is not an application for change of use or an application to change the number of dwellings in a building.

The proposed two-storey rear extension is considered appropriate in design, utilising a pitched roof and materials that match the existing dwelling. Because the extension does not project beyond the neighbouring rear elevation, it complies with the SPD and is not expected to result in a negative impact on residential amenity.

The internal reconfiguration of the first floor meets the minimum requirements of the Nationally Described Space Standards (NDSS), ensuring adequate light and outlook for occupiers while maintaining sufficient garden space. Regarding the solar PV array, the panels are considered permitted development under GPDO Schedule 2, Part 14, Class A, provided they do not protrude more than 0.2m beyond the plane of the wall. In conclusion, planning permission is required for the rear extension, though the development is unlikely to negatively affect the street scene.

Authority Employee/Member

With respect to the Authority, is the applicant and/or agent one of the following:

- (a) a member of staff
- (b) an elected member
- (c) related to a member of staff
- (d) related to an elected member

It is an important principle of decision-making that the process is open and transparent.

For the purposes of this question, "related to" means related, by birth or otherwise, closely enough that a fair-minded and informed observer, having considered the facts, would conclude that there was bias on the part of the decision-maker in the Local Planning Authority.

Do any of the above statements apply?

- ☒ No
